

March 24, 2020

With its primary manufacturing facility based in Helsingborg, Sweden, Fomtec is a manufacturer and supplier of firefighting agents and equipment. These products are supplied to, and used by key emergency response organisations (such as Municipal, Military, Airport and Industrial Fire Departments), and within critically important industries (such as Oil & Gas, Power Generation, Utilities, Transport & Communication). We are also a supplier to third parties that provide intergrated fire and security solutions, training solutions, and fire system maintenance services to our clients.

In the effect of abnormal situations Fomtec shall be deemed a "manufacturer and supplier of essential products for critical infrastructure employers and employees". Fomtec's continued operations shall be considered as vital in a crisis situation, and Fomtec has a Business Continuity Policy and operational plans in place to fulfil this role. Fomtec supports our material suppliers and service providers with appropriate documentation such that they can apply for exemptions as "essential businesses".

Any questions relatin to this document should be addressed to the undersigned.

John Olav Ottesen

President

